

Darkness In The Blood: The Blood Angels Of Warhammer 40,000

The Blood Angels were created during the First Founding of the Space Marines by the Primarch Sanguinius. Sanguinius was a gifted warrior and a charismatic leader, and he quickly became one of the most respected Primarchs among his brothers. The Blood Angels fought bravely in the Great Crusade, and they were instrumental in the victory over the Horus Heresy.

However, the Blood Angels bear a terrible secret. They are afflicted by a genetic flaw known as the "Red Thirst." The Red Thirst is an insatiable craving for blood, and it can drive the Blood Angels to madness and violence. The Blood Angels must constantly fight against the Red Thirst, and they must always be vigilant lest they succumb to its darkness.

In addition to the Red Thirst, the Blood Angels are also afflicted by the "Black Rage." The Black Rage is a sudden and uncontrollable fit of madness that can seize the Blood Angels at any time. When the Black Rage takes hold, the Blood Angels become mindless berserkers, and they will attack anything in their path. The Black Rage is a terrifying affliction, and it is one of the things that makes the Blood Angels so feared by their enemies.
